

DESIGN BRIEF

Kevin and Arlene Wong purchased this 150 year old home in an established neighborhood of Dallas Texas. The house sits on a pleasant walking street of historic houses. The exterior of the house is in excellent shape and, although not historically significant, it is consistent with the architecture of its time. To maintain the integrity of the exterior it is important to the Wongs that none of the window locations or sizes be changed. However, it is possible to replace windows with doors in order to increase the connection with the exterior. In last week's segment, the interior of the house was opened up to create a more modern interior. This week the task is to redesign the rear garden. A 5' high old brick wall encloses the garden to create a courtyard. The Wongs would like to keep this wall and create spaces for outdoor living and dining as well as a grassed area for their two daughters to play.

The finishes are also very worn. The Wongs, and their two daughters aged 12 and 14, want to keep the exterior as it is but would like the interior to be an open, modern living space. However, Arlene would also like to maintain some kind of separation between the kitchen and the main living areas. Kevin would like a family study on the main floor for a computer and the family's collection of antique children's books. However, they would consider replacing the windows at the rear of the house with doors as part of a second stage redevelopment of their walled back garden.

This is the Project Documentation Package for Part One of this week's Design Project. The goal of the Design Project exercises is to learn about the design process for making an existing home more Simple, Light, and Open. Review the Design Brief in this documentation package to understand what the client needs and wants for their home. Use the existing floor plan to analyze how Simple, Light and Open the home is in terms of these needs. For background information on what to look for, review the Simple Light Open description on the website.

Draw overtop of the plan as you analyze the house and then write down your observations about the design and your recommendations for change. When you are ready, watch John Brown complete the first part of the Design Project and compare your results. To discuss the exercise further with John, and other participants, add your comments to the blog. In the next segment we will be applying these recommendations to create a concept design.
